Chapter 1 by Isaiah Ellis

"Come on!" Link yelled as he ran down the long hallway-like cave. "I'm coming, I'm coming!" Zelda yelled back. She tried to yell as quiet as possible. She didn't want to attract any monsters. Finally they reached the end of the cave. "What did you want me to see?" Zelda asked, eyes still adjusting to the dark. "This!" Link exclaimed. He reached for a torch. "This better be good..." Zelda murmured, thinking that right now would be a bad time for a Chuchu to show up. As Link lit the torch, a whole wall of ancient ruins appeared before them. "Isn't it great?!" Link said. Zelda was in awe. In all of their adventures, she had never seen anything so rare. "You know what these can do, right?!" Zelda cried.

Chapter 2 by Isaiah Ellis

"No..." Link replied. He just thought that they looked cool. "These are the lost Hyrulian Time Ruins! The Ocarina of Time was forged here!" "Whoa..." Zelda was astounded at how stupidly he had found this after the royal historians had been searching for this for decades. She had to think about this. She paced, trying to decide what to do. "I can't tell too many people, or Ganon might be informed and come to take control of them," Zelda thought aloud. "So the ruins are magic?" Link asked. "Yes!" Zelda said without really paying attention. "Is that why their glowing?" "What?" Zelda cried quickly turning to see. The ruins were glowing a bright blue, and were starting to move around.

started to spin faster and faster. "Oh no!" Zelda cried as the ruins flew off the wall. Link cried out as a bright light enveloped them.

Chapter 3 by LethalPianist

"My head..." Link moaned. He had a headache that was splitting open his skull. It hurt more than losing all of his hearts, since he immediately revived even after losing all of his hearts. He wasn't sure how it worked.

"Goddammit, Link!" Zelda exclaimed. "What did you do?"

"I didn't do anything!" Link defended, "And stop yelling at me! It's making my head hurt."

"Link! Do you have any idea where, or more appropriately WHEN we are? this is all your fault! If I knew this was going to happen I would have just gone back to Ganon!"

"GONE BACK TO GANON? I knew it! I knew all along you were going to him intentionally! NOBODY gets kidnapped that many times!" Link was yelling now.

"Well SOMEBODY should fulfill my needs as a women, and even after that many times you rescued me you never ONCE made me your's, you cowardly child!"

"ME? It's MY fault that I cared about your maidenhead???"

"YOU were CONCERNED about my MAIDENHEAD? I was kidnapped by a freaking pig human hybrid! What MAIDENHEAD do you expect me to have LEFT?" Zelda screamed, tears in her eyes.

"You little bit-"

Suddenly, a bright light shone on the two of them.

"Hey, you two." A gruff voice said. "Stop it with the lover's quarrel already."

"SHUT UP YOU COMMONER" Link yelled and struck him with his sword. It passed clean through and blood flew through the air.

The enemy didn't disintegrate. He didn't drop money or rare items or hearts.

He was a cop.

Chapter 4 by Phantim

What had just happened?

Link and Zelda didn't even have time to think about it before more shouting came. It was the Officer's partner, he began to draw his weapon as he ran towards the two. Link had never seen anything like it before. His years of training told him that it was a weapon, and that they were in trouble. Not knowing if he should run or fight, he found out why it hadn't correctly killed the last cop. He shot it towards a nearby building. He wrapped his arm around Zelda's waist. She blushed for a second then realized what was happening. "Wait, LINK! NO DON'T YOU DA---" he complaining was cut short as they were jerked up into the air on top of a 3 story building.

Link grabbed her hand and began to run on the rooftops. She ran too once she heard the shooting.

It's hard to say how long they ran. It was dark dark when they finally couldn't take it anymore.

"Please... we have to stop," Zelda pleaded.

"I know... Over there seems good." He said pointing to a dark alley.

It looked dark, dirty and disgusting to Zelda. But as much as she hated to do it, she trusted Link. He was a survivor and they were in a strange and scary new place. They two hide in the alley behind an old dumpster. Link decided to take first watch and let Zelda sleep. She was thankful. After she fell asleep, Link slid his green cap on her, covering her pointy ears which must have been getting chilly in the night air.

He was looking down at her, the woman he loved, wondering how they were going to make things work. When suddenly he heard a noise and turned to see who it was. There were two big men in the alley.

Link drew his sword, ready to fight.

"No Link, we don't mean any harm. Let me and my brother help you." The large man said with a strange accent. He then held out his white gloved hands. Link looked at the man over, he was muscular and tall, he was wearing a red t-shirt and blue overalls. His large mustache made it hard to tell if he was smiling.

"How do you know my name?" Link asked.

"My name is Mario. You may not know me, but I know you. It's hard to explain, but we... were in a game together. Super Smash Brothers." he said.

"A game? No... how did you find me?" Link asked.

The other brother in green stepped forward and held a device in his hands. Link couldn't understand it, but it was a modin.

Chapter 5 by Isalah Ellis

"I'm confused," Link said. His head was spinning, unable to understand what was going on. "We thoughta you would." The green brother said. "My name isa Luigi." Link turned to them. "What happened?" he said. "My kingdom is gone, has the same happened to you? You don't look like from around here," "A-yes, but we'a from alternate Dimension, ifa you understand." Mario said. "Like the Twilight Dimension?" Link tried to understand. "Yea, but it'sa not so easy to travel there." Link was so confused. "Then how did you get here? Did you use magic?" Mario looked at Luigi. "No," Luigi said. "We'lla show you." Mario said. "Bringa Zelda, she'a needs to see what we have found too."

They walked out of the alleyway, and where greeted with an almost empty street. It was night, and Link was afraid of any monster attacks, because he had no idea how to kill monsters from this future, and it was hard to swing a sword while carrying someone on your back. Mario and Luigi lead them to an old warehouse, where they showed him a strange glowing screen with words he didn't recognize. "Zelda, wake up." Link softly shook Zelda. She got up and said, "Is it my shift yet?" "No, I found someone to help us," Link explained. "I'm going back to sleep," She mumbled, then fell back asleep on the floor. "Luigi, read it." Mario commanded. "Ok..." Luigi said.

"Nintendo Attacks Japan!"

"Due to the recent death of Nintendo CEO " with his Will nowhere to be found, the biggest video game company in the industry is finding scrambling for a leader! However, in the process, Nintendo elected a corrupt leader to help it recover, and there have sightings of characters from Nintendo games everywhere in Japan! With all of these dangerous creatures under Nintendo's control, Japan has hardly been able to cope! To make things worse, it is rumored that Nintendo has taken control of Nitrome, Mojang, Kogregate, Sega, and Game Theory. The world's military's is on standby for war."

Link looked like he had smelled something funny. "Huh?" He asked. Luigi looked at Mario. "It means that thisa world is at war." Mario said. "So this game you were talking about," Link said, "That we were in, is there anyone else from it that is here?" "Probably," Luigi said. "But none thata we know of other thana you." Mario pulled his hat down to hide his eyes. "I wanta see the Princess again. He said sadly. "and if you want to see your kingdom again, we musta do all that we can to combat them." Link did not know what to say. Luigi stepped in. "Because they'a brought us here so they'a should be able to help us, but Link, they'a have't Link." Mario said quietly. "Yes?" "Where's Z

Link immediately stabbed Mario 17 times in the upper chest for mentioning his recent heartbreak. As Mario slowly bled to death, Luigi smiled slowly and said, "Well, what can you do? He deserved it anyway. He was abusing me. All I wanted was his love." Luigi then proceeded to search Mario's various pockets for any money he might be carrying.

And he found... not just loads of coins but also... an amiibo figure? It was a Sonic amiibo. He also found a strange device in Mario's pockets. "What's this?" Luigi questioned. On it was a label that only Link could read. So... he read it. "Mario's amiibo Animation Device. Place amiibo on device to bring the amiibo to life." "Ok..." And so... Luigi placed the Sonic amiibo on the plate. It shook. It rumbled. And the Sonic amiibo came to life... But he was still the size of the regular amiibo figure. "AWWCOMEONIWASSUPPOSED TO BE YOUR SIZE-" "Geez. Slow down. We can fix that." In Mario's pockets there was an Animated amiibo Figure enlarger. So they enlarged Sonic. "Thanks. Now where are we- WOAHH WOAHH WOAHH! WTF happened to Mario? Link... did you do this..." "Uhh... umm... IT WAS LUIGI!" "NO IT WAS A NOT! YOU DID IT!" "Ok... based on Link's stammering I can GUARANTEE it was him."

Chapter 8 by Galaxy

"Nope, I'm pretty sure it was Luigi" Link said, now with more confidence in his voice, he looked away and grinned.

"Sure it was" Sonic replied

"Well what'a do we do'a now?"

"We begin for the war" said someone who was walking into the ally

"Who is that strange man walking toward us" Link whispered to Sonic and Luigi.

"It's Samus and I'm not a guy" she takes off her helmet and her long blonde hair falls down her suit

"Oh, well I'm sorry, I have never seen a woman dressed like you" Link stammers

"Is that a compliment or should I take offense to it"

Sonic stepped in

"How will we prepare for the war we are fighting?"

"Simple, you three suggested that I wasn't evil, so you think about who is evil and boom that's who you fight" Samus replied

There was a strange noise that was hovering above the four

"It's not safe out here in the streets, come to my place and we will be safe there"

"Wait'a one second, how do'a we know if'a we can'a trust'a you" Luigi asks

"Well you can wait here and die or come to my place where its safe, your choice"

There was silence on the way over, Link hated silence as much as he hated not having enough rupees for bombs when he needed them. Once they got there, they were astonished by the bright orange and blue surrounding her house

"It's a protective barrier, just so no-one other than me can get in" Samus said, noticing that all three of their jaws dropped once they saw the house, "We're safe here, now quickly get inside"

Link ran inside the house, it looked like Zelda's castle, but even more beautiful

"I will be back in a couple of minutes, I'm going upstairs" Samus told them, "Oh yeah and Link you're in charge, don't mess up my house"

"Okay" He replies

He had no idea that there was an upstairs

"Hm, if I didn't say so myself, I'd think that Samus has a little crush on you Link" Sonic says

"Whaat? No, she doesn't" Link says blushing a bit

(What about Zelda, he thinks to himself)

"Okay, but when she tells you she does, I will say I told you so"

Samus walks down the stairs, "Well it seems as if you didn't mess up my house, good job guys, by the way since I don't have a suit on, I'm called Zero Suit Samus"

"Okay" They all said in sync

"Lets pledge to never do that again" Sonic says

All of a sudden a big explosion came from outside the house,

"They know we're here, follow me I have an escape pod in the back room" Samus said

"Who knows we're here?!" Sonic screams

Link was tired of running from whatever was following them. "Why don't we just fight it off?" he asks, as he was sprinting towards the wall. The world went dark, nothing could hurt him, he was safe 'this is the end' he thought to himself, it was warm in fact a little too warm.

"Link wake up, Link wake up"

It was Zelda

"What happened"

"Well you said you found something, and you didn't see the water on the ground so you slipped and banged your head pretty bad" Zelda replied, "But, while you were out I did find this strange room, I think that the Ocarina of Time was forged here!"

Links eyes were closing because of how exhausted he was, "Uhh, Link, you have to see this, the ruins are glowing"

He opened his eyes and he cried out as a bright light enveloped them...

the end
